PRINCIPAL'S COMMENTS

Kia ora ē te whānau

I'm thrilled with the success of our Evolocity team and their win in Palmerston North this week. After competing against teams from our region and beyond they came out on top. My congratulations to Ivan Du Plessis, Joel Dunwoodie, Matthew Willans, Ivan Dunford, and Samuel Schroder.

While we are rapidly approaching the end of instructional lessons and internal assessments for Senior students, who will be on exam level in 3 weeks' time, the level of progress being maintained by these students is quite exceptional.

Our projected results for Years 11, 12 and 13 are looking extremely positive and I thank staff and students for staying the course with our plan for the return to school and the end of the year. We are not there quite yet and I am encouraging everyone to finish well and I think you will agree that what we are on track to achieve is extraordinary.

The green areas represent the percentage of students anticipated to gain NCEA at the respectively levels. Keep up the good work and finish well.

Regrettably, we are having to come up with some creative solutions regarding our celebration events this term due to the restrictions created by the COVID Delta variant. The leadership team and I have taken the decision to fold the Sports Awards into the Junior and Senior Prizegivings respectively and it is also likely that we will have to modify our plans for Senior Graduation. We are exploring how best to allow parents and caregivers to celebrate with us even if it is via a virtual link.

My congratulations to Eric Parker who has been duly elected as the new Student Board of Trustees Representative. Three excellent candidates put themselves forward and the votes were evenly distributed as you can see in the results notice.

The Board and I have taken the decision to actively support the DHB goal of 90% vaccination for COVID-19. A key goal of the Board is for Naenae College to be a safe environment for both teachers and students. Please see the information from the Board that follows. Vaccinations are available at school this Friday to all staff and students for either their first or second shot.

Ngā mihi manaaki

Board of Trustees Message

Naenae College Board of Trustees message around supporting a safe Naenae College.

Vaccinations have the power to change the way Aotearoa manages the virus, and give us more possibilities.

The COVID-19 Protection Framework brings us a world where we are freer to move and live with less disruption and offers the stability businesses need to plan for the future.

Once 90% of eligible New Zealanders are fully vaccinated and protected, it will be safe to introduce this new framework that does not rely on lockdowns as the main measure to stop the virus spreading.

Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern shares a plan with all New Zealanders that will help us stay safe from COVID-19 into the future.

COVID-19 remains a serious threat to our health and wellbeing. While we've changed our lives and tikanga to protect ourselves from COVID-19, there is still more we can do to keep ourselves safe.

Everyone aged 12 and over can get the COVID-19 vaccine now. The vaccine is especially important to safeguard our kuia and kaumātua, hapū Māmā and others who are more likely to get seriously ill if they catch COVID-19. It will also help protect our tamariki.

Seek out trusted sources of information and have a kōrero with your whānau, hapū, iwi and community about why the vaccine, and other measures such as face coverings, will help protect us all against COVID-19. Be a doer! Karawhiua.

Everyone in Aotearoa aged 12 and over can book their free COVID-19 vaccination now

As part of the New Zealand Government's response and Unite Against COVID-19 campaign, MPP has launched a complementary campaign about receiving the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine.

When you get vaccinated, you're not just protecting yourself but also your aiga, friends, churches and community. The vaccine is free and available to everyone aged 12 and over. It will help to protect Aotearoa from COVID-19.

Watch our COVID-19 vaccine educational videos below to find out about the vaccination journey and how the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine works. Get your COVID-19 vaccination

EVLOCITY - Electric Vehicle project for students

EVLOCITY in partnership with Orion, ETCO, University of Auckland, University of Canterbury and MeloYelo has proudly launched the school's programme for the seventh year of competition. The programme now extends from Canterbury through to Nelson, Wellington, Waikato, Manawatu, Wanganui, Wairarapa, Horowhenua, Bay of Plenty and Auckland schools.

What is EVLOCITY?

EVLOCITY is about fast forwarding the future. It's about stimulating innovation and growing awareness of the advantages of electric transport in a sector which may be the global growth sector of the 21st Century. Our High School initiative provides students with an electric bike componentry kit. During the course of the year they design & build their own electric vehicles. At the end of the year they bring their vehicles to a motorsport park for some fun competitions!

There were 2 categories where schools can take part in EVLOCITY, namely standard class and open class (Bikes & Carts). For the first time in this competition, Naenae college took part in the Standard class: Carts up to 350W, (for the 24V Standard Kit).

Participants

There were 5 students who took part in the EVLOCITY competition. They are : Ivan Du Plessis, Joel Dunwoodie, Matthew Willans, Ivan Dunford, and Samuel Schroder.

There were a total of 9 schools which participated in Wellington-Manawatu Regional in Palmerston North on October 27th.

Achievements

Naenae college was placed:

- 1st place in standard cart division
- 1st place in overall economy run
- 2nd place in Mechanical excellence
- 2nd place over all in Gymkhana

Teacher In Charge
Mr Ranjeev Singh

Well done to you all!

E-Velocity Competition ...

SENIOR FORMAL

Track Zero Programme

During the school holidays, a group of seven young creative rangatahi attended the Track Zero programme that focused on climate change. The students learnt about climate science from New Zealand's Top scientist Tim Naish and explored actions they can take to create a resilient, carbon neutral future. The students also actively took part in photography workshops led by local artists Chevron Hassett, Te Kawa Robb and Te Rawhitiroa Bosch (joined in via Zoom from Auckland). The photographers shared their expertise and taught them how to use digital cameras to produce photos that express their ideas on our place, our world, and the impact of climate change on their communities. Students were lucky enough to go out on a field trip with the artists to take photos. At the end of the workshop students were gifted the cameras by the Track Zero team.

The students' photographs will be exhibited in the Naenae community centre and New Zealand Festival of Arts 2022.

Watch this space for confirmed exhibition dates.
